

Ramesh Jayasuriya
Head of Digital Health
Evio

Ramesh is a healthcare executive with over 15 years of experience and a proven track record of building healthcare technology businesses. He is accountable for several Evio product lines including real-world evidence (RWE) and Evio's proprietary platform for value-based care contract administration, Evio Engage.

Prior to his current role at Evio, he served as the VP/GM of the Payer & Decision Support business within McKesson's pharmacy technologies division where he led a portfolio of digital health products including the prior authorization business that connected Payers who process more than 80% of US prescription volume with 750,000 providers, 500+ EHRs and 50,000 pharmacies.

Before his role at McKesson, Ramesh held executive roles within Express Scripts/Cigna and UnitedHealth Group/Optum across product development, growth, and operations.