

Adrienne L. Johnson
Vice President, Treaty Broking, USA
Guy Carpenter & Co. LLC

Adrienne is currently responsible for account management of Guy Carpenter's Healthcare & Life Segment clients, executing client risk management strategies. In this role, she creates and coordinates risk transfer solutions ranging from facultative covers to program business, enabling customized A&H offerings.

In 2019, she transitioned to the Healthcare & Life treaty broking segment, responsible for all Accident-related products, including Student K-12, Intercollegiate Sports, College Medical and Health. She spends the rest of her time supporting Employer Stop Loss and P&C clients.

In 2014, prior to joining the Healthcare & Life segment, she served as a Technical Assistant providing analytical and compliance support on a large number of Property & Casualty accounts in addition to supporting Guy Carpenter's exclusive Property & Umbrella Facultative facilities. During this period, she also served in an advisory role responsible for the development of internal compliance practices.

She began her reinsurance career at Guy Carpenter in 2006 providing administrative support for senior brokers in Philadelphia. Throughout her career, Adrienne has specialized in expanding the scope of insurance and reinsurance concepts for various lines of business including – Surety, Medical Malpractice, and Workers Compensation insurance.

Simultaneously, Adrienne is currently pursuing her ARe designation and a degree in Business Administration at Saint Joseph's University in Philadelphia.

Adrienne is an active member of Guy Carpenter's Employee Resource Group, GC Embrace participating in the development and execution of DEI events, programs, and initiatives across the organization.
