

Alex Hartley
Director of Data Analytics
AssuredPartners, Upstate NY Platform

Alex has a decade of experience in Healthcare Data Analytics with a focus on self-funded health plans for municipalities and school districts. As the Director of Data Analytics at AssuredPartners' Upstate platform, Alex leads a team that leverages Benefitfocus' Health Insights claims data warehouse and analytics tools to uncover actionable insights on high cost claimants, provider network discounts, utilization patterns, large-scale trends, and benchmarking metrics.

In response to the industry's shift towards controlling rapidly escalating prescription drug costs, Alex and his team diligently review and identify opportunities within a client's PBM contract and Rx claims utilization. His goal is to help employer groups manage their prescription drug expenses efficiently. Working closely with their on-staff PharmD, they continuously analyze claims data to develop cost-effective solutions that maintain clinical efficacy and member satisfaction.
